

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

AFFAIRS OF THE ASSOCIATION.

The memorial page following serves as a reminder of a loss to the University and to the Historical Association that is deeply felt. The Association especially owes Professor Bugbee a great debt for his effective efforts in enlarging its membership, building up its revenues, and keeping its finances in order.

Professor Bugbee had proved himself a skillful investigator and an able writer. He had done much valuable work in Texas history, and his career was full of promise till disease began to paralyze his energies. His race was short, but he bore well the uplifted torch, and he has not run in vain.

---

It has been decided to have the regular annual meeting of the Association for this year jointly with that of the Veterans and the Daughters of the Republic at Lampasas, April 21st. Owing to unexpected delay in completing the arrangements for this meeting, which have just been made, it is now too late to provide for papers to be presented then; but it is likely that one or two whose titles cannot now be announced will be read. Of course the election of officers for the ensuing year and the transaction of whatever business may require attention will be included in the program.

The policy of holding the regular annual meetings of the Association jointly with the Veterans and the Daughters is intended to be permanent, and in spite of the little time left to prepare it has been thought best to inaugurate the custom at once.

Members will please take this as the regular announcement of the meeting.

---

WANTED.

I wish to secure the J. Pinckney Henderson memorial number (Vol. I, No. 12) of The Texas Magazine. Any one having this number for sale will please address

WILLIAM BEER,
Howard Memorial Library,
New Orleans, La.